Walking Toward Eternity: Making Choices for Today

In our first session, Jeff will introduce us to Lectio Divina, a method of meditating on scripture our basis for subsequent homework assignments and approach to scripture. The following four sessions format start with Jeff's lecture, followed by group discussion of the scripture and topical questions. Students then return to the sanctuary for the last ten minutes to sit before the Lord in Adoration, listening to Him and listening for how He wants to you to apply the knowledge you have gained during this lesson. Three questions are posed at the end of each lesson to help you discern the direction the Lord is prompting you in your daily life.
